

Ann H. Franke Biography

Ann H. Franke provides consulting services to colleges and universities through her firm, Wise Results, LLC. Her expertise covers risk management, employment, student affairs, and governance. Her clients value her depth of knowledge and practical approach.

Ann has developed a sub-specialty in the protection of children, working with institutions nationwide to safeguard the minors with whom they interact. She has served as volunteer coordinator of the Youth Protection Network for Higher Education, a group she founded, since 2013.

Ann is sought after as a speaker, commentator, and author. She writes for publications including the Chronicle of Higher Education, Inside Higher Ed, Trusteeship, and Academe. She previously held senior positions with United Educators Insurance and the American Association of University Professors (AAUP). She earned tenure at AAUP and, during a sabbatical year, received a Fulbright Senior Scholar Award to study the development of private universities in Australia. She is a fellow of the National Association of College and University Attorneys and received a national award from the Stetson University College of Law for her innovative approach to campus risk management.

Ms. Franke received her B.A., M.A., and J.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and an LL.M. from Georgetown University. Ann can be reached by e-mail.