U.S. Department of Homeland Security
Office of Intelligence & Analysis (I&A)
I&A Fellows Program

Background

The Office of Intelligence and Analysis (I&A) Fellows Program furthers the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) mission for information and intelligence sharing by bringing talent and expertise from the field to I&A to enhance and build partnerships between DHS and state, local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) entities through cross-training opportunities in I&A and practical experience in the field.

Through partnership building, I&A strives to be the nexus between the Intelligence Community (IC) and state and local partners and to ensure three things:

- That threat information from the IC gets to SLTT and private sector partners consistently and effectively
- That information and intelligence developed by SLTT and private sector partners is collected and made available to the IC, and
- That DHS I&A (and our Intelligence Enterprise partners) work to turn the data that DHS collects everyday into predictive intelligence that informs partners of threat at all levels.

Fellowship Overview

SLTT Fellows will have the opportunity to become a valuable and participating member of I&A and its mission. SLTT Fellows will work alongside I&A employees at I&A Headquarters in Washington, DC and participate in a one-year education, training, and field application in an intelligence enterprise function area designed to increase collaboration between DHS and SLTT partners, bridge gaps and foster relationships at the Fusion Centers for information and intelligence sharing. (Option to extend to 2nd year).

Expectations

- Represent and advocate for SLTT campus public safety information requirements for intelligence and analysis.
- Identify campus public safety information within the scope of the DHS Intelligence Enterprise that is of interest to SLTT and Private Sector partners.
- Identify, contribute to and write analytic products on campus public safety at the unclassified level.
- Gain practical experience and understanding of the relationship between national homeland security efforts and the Intelligence Community to further partnerships.

- Develop networking relationships with various partners at all levels of government (Federal, State, local, tribal, and territorial), disciplines, sectors and fusion centers.

Eligibility

This fellowship is available for current sworn law enforcement officers in a mid- to senior level position from a campus public safety agency that possess a working knowledge of the terrorism and homeland security information needs of the national campus public safety community.

Eligible applicants will be required to have or obtain a Top Secret/SCI clearance prior to the beginning of the fellowship. DHS will sponsor any necessary clearance upgrades for selected applicants.
